Doretta Groenendyk's new book, "Step Outside," promotes the valuable goal of relating to one another and the natural environment in a creative and enchanted way. Childhood obesity and addiction to electronics are concerns that need to be addressed. "Step Outside" is an artistic approach to inspiring movement, strengthening family bonds, generating memories and celebrating the outdoors. It also visually enriches readers' repertoires with enticing original collaged, watercolor and acrylic creations.

A beautiful combination of sport, art, poetry, nature and family, "Step Outside" is sure to get you off your chair and enjoying the outdoors.
