My name is Autumn Douglas and I recently came to grips with the fact that I'm 40, my daughter is going off to college, my husband is cheating on me, and I have been fighting my lesbian sexuality for most of my adult life. Instead of feeling sorry for myself, I joined a secret club of influential women called the Artemis Society. We mentor younger women and prepare them for a world still too-dominated by men. Artemis is also a hedonistic refuge for lesbian exploration and political intrigue. When the Hunt Mother who rules the society says she wants me to find new recruits I am at a loss until I happen upon a young woman working the streets who needs my help. To get this exploited nineteen year old beauty off the streets and out of trouble I will be forced to risk my relationship with my current lover, outsmart a twisted pimp, and get out of a strange predicament that may cost me my dignity and my reputation.

If I can pull it off, the rewards will be sweet and very, very steamy. Artemis: The Lesbian Cougar Society is mother and wife Autumn Douglas's firsthand journey into an intensely erotic lesbian secret world. Accompany her into a club where older women help mentor younger women, in every way imaginable, and political maneuvering can be accompanied with steamy erotica. This 15,000+ word story features multiple scenes of romance and explicit sex.
