YES, but.... was originally conceived as the second part of Martin Burke's yet-to-be-published The Tao of Wittgenstein. But I liked it so much I wanted to publish it as is before even seeing what came before or after. It seems so "as it should be." Meanwhile, life intervened and it took 16 months for Crisis Chronicles to print it. But it's well worth the wait, and I'm proud to present it now.

YES, but.... is 29 pages in 8.5 x 11" landscape format, lovingly handbound and sidestapled. The cover features black endpapers and high quality soft blue cardstock emblazoned with a photo taken by Steven Smith at Cleveland's Brandt Gallery. Published in January 2014 by Crisis Chronicles Press. The chapbook is available for $5 from Crisis Chronicles Press. c/o John Burroughs, 3344 W. 105th Street #4, Cleveland, Ohio 44111 in the United States. Please add $2 for postage in the US ($5 for international orders).
