When seventeen year old April suffers some personal problems, her parents send her to the country to stay with her aunt and uncle in their very old house.

No sooner does April arrive when a young man from the afterlife makes contact with her. Step by step he guides April in solving a 100 year old mystery, giving redemption to his spirit, and in the process, helping April to restore her own sanity. This is a novelette of approximately 15,000 words.
