They've crossed a line...and they're about to pay the price. After a drunken night in Vegas, Princess Sophia and Pax Donovan find themselves in an awkward situation. But before the video of their latest bad decision goes viral, they have another challenge to face: meeting the royal parents. Pax is the last person the king and queen of Montovia would choose for their only daughter. Can this bad boy rock star charm his way into their favor, or will they convince Sophia once and for all that her relationship with Pax is a disaster?
