Sometimes life's little annoyances can become the things you love the most of all. Tyson—the Wolf had been nothing but an annoyance to Justice since he'd sought refuge with the Wolf pack. Sure, the kid may be cute enough, but he's more hyper than a kid jacked up on candy, and he never knows when to shut up. So, why is it that Justice feels an attraction to the hyper Wolf with a motor mouth? What's more, why is he so protective of him? Ever since the Justice came to the pack, Tyson had a mad crush on Justice. There is just something about the quiet Tiger shifter that calls to Tyson and makes him want to claim the man as his own, so Tyson is sad and disappointed when Justice seems to always be so annoyed with him. Then another pack moves in and tries to take the Wayne County Pack's territory, and everybody is going to have to work together to survive. Will Justice be able to protect Tyson? Or will Tyson's eagerness to please get him into trouble?
