The fire wizards of the Empire stand at the forefront of battle, unleashing a maelstrom of death down onto the battlefield to blast apart the hordes of the enemy and protect their homelands. Tapping into the powerful winds of magic, these revered spellcasters take a dangerous gamble each time they use their powers, risking all in order to wield the ultimate power. Experienced fire wizard Gerhart Brennend carries the painful burden of accidentally killing his family and destroying his home town whilst hunting down the twisted skaven rat-men. Now, as a self-imposed loner, Gerhart has made it his life's work to travel the Empire destroying it's enemies in the hope of making amends in the eyes of his mystical order!
